EDIT:

AW - this post should have been in "JoomlaWatch improvement suggestions"

Hi,

Seems to be an old thread by now, but here it goes anyways:

All that comes to my mind is this:

In Latest visits, history etc. all visitor data are very close together.

I love the info "Came from" stating the search keywords they used to get to my site.

Only:

Sometimes this info "seem" to appear after the guests pages browsed, sometimes after.

So, I would love some kind of separation; either a tag to kinda encapsulate/isolate each visitor or by grey-coloring every 2nd visitors datas background, or by some other means.

I know, some nice person could tell me: "Its always after/before", so I should remember that.

I just think it would be more read-friendly if above suggestion was implemented.

Other than that, JW is now always one of the first components I check after logging into admin area - absolutely love it!

Thanks a lot for your work!

Rgd,

boomla
